

Stop selling call scoring.
Build the agency a brain.

A persistent, machine-readable brain that gets smarter every month from their own calls, that leadership can talk to in plain language wherever they already work, and that they own outright even if they leave.

01THE CORE LOOP

this is the moat · everything else is surface area

Score → coach → re-score the same human → measure what stuck.

Every cycle makes the coaching better, because it's the same humans being measured.

02THE OWNERSHIP MODEL

the offer's sharpest edge

Stop paying → you keep everything built so far. You just stop building more.
